Girl Injured; Radio Tells Officer Dad

Thru Newport streets late Sundaycruised George Burns and Ollie

Powers. Newport patrolmen.

A message from Station X came thru their radio: "Newport Cruiser No. 2 . . . go to 215 Lewis-st . . . girl injured.

The second and third message was unnecessary. Car No. 2 was streaking for that address, its siren shrieking wildly.

No. 215 Lewis-st is Burns' home.

Hurrying into the house, Burns found his daughter, Eleanor, 18, suffering from a severe head cut re-ceived when several young hoodlums bombarded the girl and two companions with stones.

Eleanor was rushed to Speers Hospital where five stitches were taken to close the wound.
